UNEMPLOYED ROYALTY

"Monarch Wanted," read the ad. It was handed to a king who was feeling rather sad. Would apply for anything.

When the monarch did apply—(Fortune has a lot of stings)—What should meet his jaded eye But a lengthy line of kings?

When a monarch seeks a job It behooves him to be quick. Fortune has been playing hob. Many kings are pressing brick.

MAYOR LEE IN TOILS OF THE LAW

Several days ago one of the motormen of the Maysville Street Railway Company reported to the Police Department the number of an automobile that had driven past a street car while loading and discharging passengers. Yesterday it developed that the number applied to the machine owned by Mayor J. Wesley Lee. A warrant was immediately sworn out for honor and he was cited to appear in Police Court this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. This is the first time that a city official has gotten in bad with the law for breaking this ordinance.

The Flomingsburg Colored Fair will be held on October 5 and 6 for which many splendid attractions have been secured, one of the best colored bands in this section will furnish the music. James H. Bradford of this city is president and G. L. Anderson, secretary of the Company.

ONE DAY TO ELAPSE BETWEEN WORLD'S SERIES CONTESTS IF PLAYED BY GIANTS AND SOX

Chicago, September 12—A day will elapse between the world's series games, if played in New York and Chicago, President Johnson, of the American League, announced tonight. The railroad offered a 20-hour schedule, which would permit games to be played in either city the following day, but President Johnson decided the danger of delay of the special trains, thus causing a rearrangement of the series, was too great.

Players in the American League will be prohibited from writing so-called expert newspaper stories on the series, Johnson said. The ruling not only applies to members of the club participating in the games, but to players on other teams in the league whose services as writers have been sought.

KENTUCKY'S OLDEST PHYSICIAN

In Dr. E. C. Dimmitt, Germantown has probably the oldest practicing physician in the State—36 years old, but notwithstanding his advanced age he gets around as spry as many men more than 25 years younger and has lost none of his skill as a physician, and can be seen any day making his calls; one day last week he was called to a see a patient near Augusta. Dr. Dimmitt is not only a good physician but he is a true Southern gentleman of the old school.

U. S. FLAG

Went Into Trenches First Time Near Lens—Writer in New York World Also Asserts That One of Our Warships Sank German Destroyer and Captured Its Crew.

New York, September 13—The New York World prints a letter dated "August 18—A port in France," which contains the following: "A division of American troops landed here out of a bunch of Boches near Lens yesterday, which was the first time the American flag went into battle in France."

The writer of the letter also describes a brush which his ship, an American warship, had with a German destroyer at Land's End. The German vessel was sunk and the crew was captured and taken aboard the American, he states.

Pig Contingent of Artillery in France American Training Camp in France, September 13—A large contingent of American artillery has joined the expeditionary army and is well along with its intensive training under French supervision.

Hitherto the arrival of the artillery contingent has been carefully guarded and permission to mention the fact has just been given.

The American artillerymen are using the latest models of the famous French seventy-fives and also six-inch Howitzers.

This Sounds Good; 9 U-Boats Sunk?

New York, N. Y., September 13—Tow an American destroyer sank the Austrian destroyer Ulan in battle somewhere in English waters is told here in a letter from a seaman on the American vessel, published in The New York World.

The American destroyer was hit three times, the writer stated, but there were no casualties. The American rescued twenty-one officers and thirty-five men from the Austrian ship.

The New York Times today published a letter from an American now serving in France, in which the writer declared that the convoys escorting his transport squadron sank four German U-boats on one day and five on another.

CAPTAIN MITCHELL OF MANCHESTER, O., MAKES RECORD AS FERRYMAN

Manchester, O., September 13—On the 15th day of September Captain Grant Mitchell, of the Ferryboat W. H. Whitman, will have served his 34th year as a ferryman, making a record for himself equaled by few, if by any other person in this respect on the Ohio river between Cincinnati and Portsmouth. Capt. Mitchell not only collects fares and sees to the loading and unloading of the boat, but is a number one fireman and holds pilot's license and we believe could manipulate the engine if necessary. During these years he has been employed on the Ferryboats Argus, Fred Stone, Little Laffie, and White-man and has traveled thousands of miles back and forth across the Ohio river and knows practically more people than any other man in Manchester.

NOON-DAY LUNCHEON

Given By Chamber of Commerce to Auto Bus Drivers at Elks' Club Room Yesterday Was a Most Pleasing Affair.

The noon-day luncheon at the Elks' Club Room yesterday given by the Maysville Chamber of Commerce to the auto bus drivers between this city and points within a radius of twenty miles was a very pleasant affair and did much to bring the business men of this city into a closer relation with those who carry merchandise to and from our neighboring towns and villages. It is estimated that these auto trucks daily carry between forty and fifty tons of merchandise away from Maysville, and likewise bring back a large amount of the products of the farms.

The luncheon was a strictly informal affair, just the kind to make everybody feel that it was easy to get acquainted, and it did much to make both the business men and the truck drivers feel that for the common good of all the fullest co-operation should be given.

Short talks were given by President Horace Cochran and Secretary Dods of the Chamber of Commerce, as well as by quite a few others. Mr. W. Holton Key assured those present that as soon as the commission form of government went into effect the people of the county would have better roads than for some time past and that the money spent on roads would be strictly accounted for.

The luncheon was most wholesome and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. It was served by Chef Henry Fields and assistants in their choicest style. After the lunch was over cigars were passed around.

The Chamber of Commerce is to be commended on the way the luncheon was arranged and everyone present felt that it did much to promote the business interests of the city.

LIGHTED CIGARS WITH $5 BILLS

On Old Packets—Money Was So Plentiful and Business So Good That Hoals Refused to Make Stops.

In looking over the private papers of "Uncle" Abe Pierce, who died here several years ago, a diary kept by him when he was running the "bars" on several of the big Southern packets was found that contained some things that are very interesting to men of river inclinations today. It shows what a stupendous industry the river business was at one time. On one trip of the famous Sultana he had written, "Money is so plentiful on this trip among the Northern travelers that it is a frequent sight to see cigars lighted with $5 bills."

Again he wrote: "The business of the packets in the Cincinnati-New Orleans trade has been of such a huge volume that it was impossible to take on another pound of freight or another passenger, consequently no landing was made between Memphis and Natchez, and then only to discharge some passengers and cargo." On another page he says: "We passed today on our up-trip eight large towboats pushing in whole acres of loaded coalboats on their way to New Orleans from Pittsburgh," which now brings back the question, "Where are the great fleets of majestic river packets which twenty or thirty years ago plied the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers from Pittsburgh to Cairo and to New Orleans? And where are the ponderous towboats that drifted downstream in a continued procession?"

There were no locks or dams or artificial rises in the Ohio River in those days. At numerous places along the route it took only the wave of a handkerchief to swing the packets from their course to the shore to ship freight or passengers.

FIFTY MASON COUNTY FARMER BOYS, BETWEEN THE AGES OF 10 AND 18 YEARS TO JOIN OUR

MASON COUNTY HEIFER CLUB

Believing that the future progress and prosperity of Mason County depends upon the continuing development of its Agricultural interests and the business efficiency of our future Farmers, with the hope of being able to aid in those directions, we have decided to organize a Heifer Club for the Farmer Boys of Mason County.

ABOUT THE FIRST OF SEPTEMBER, 1917, we are going to purchase Fifty Grade Shorthorn Heifers, about eight months old and weighing about 600 pounds, which we will distribute among the first fifty Mason County Farmer Boys, between the ages of 10 and 18 years, that apply for and agree to care for same and that can execute a bankable note covering the cost of the Heifer; which note shall be payable in the fall of 1918.

The Heifers will be bought by expert cattlemen connected with the Extension Service of the State College of Agriculture and be distributed among the boys by lot. Each boy will be given the same chance to make good, and required to become a member of the Mason County Boys' Agricultural Club and to care for the Heifer under the directions of the County Agent; to have the Heifer bred to a pure bred Shorthorn Bull, this fall, and to have her and her offspring ready for public exhibition and sale in the fall of 1918.

You will not be expected to put up a cent of money now; but, you must properly care for the Heifer and pay for it later and all the increase and profit will be yours.

About $100 will be given away in prizes to the boys getting the best results, with their Heifers, at the exhibition to be held in the fall of 1918. For full particulars call at Bank or see Mr. E. F. Boyd, Jr., County Agent, at once, as we want to close entries to the club by September 1st. We are anxious to help Boys that are willing to work and learn.

THE PARENTS' ABDICATION

Besides several future presidents, and possibly the greatest American novelist, thousands of just average young Americans have begun the fall term of school.

And mothers by the hundred rejoice openly because school has taken the youngsters out of the house and out of the way most of their waking hours five days a week.

The feelings of these mothers would be grievously injured if they were told they are deliberately shelving any of their own duties upon the teachers.

The teachers know this, however, although they do not protest. They know a growing evil of the public school system for the past ten years has been the shirking of parental responsibility for what children do in school hours.

And teachers feel the evil is increasing, not because co-operation between school and home cannot be arranged satisfactorily, but because the understanding between the parent and child is not of the right kind.

The child at school reflects the home.

The boy will not mind the teacher if he is not accustomed to mind his mother. A child will be tardy at school if he is permitted to be late to breakfast. A bully will terrify his schoolmates at recess if he is allowed to tease and scare his own little brothers and sisters.

Many a foud mama send a child to his classes with clean hands and neat clothing as a matter of personal pride, while disclaiming all responsibility for his disobedience and laziness, as if his manners and character were things she could not possibly have a part in shaping.

American parents are always ready to pick flaws in the public school system—and heaven knows they are easy to pick—but the number would be grandly reduced if some parents would seek with the same eagerness for mistakes in the home training of their little ones.

And the worst of it all is that everybody blames the poor child. He is called "bad", and he endures a punishment which his elders really deserve because his "badness" is mostly the result of their laziness, selfishness or stupidity.

Parents who are slackers add big sums to the cost of education. So here is a chance for patriotic mothers to try a new kind of wartime economy. Help the teachers by raising children who know how to behave in school. Then see that they do behave.—Cincinnati Post.

MR. HOOVER TUMBLES

Mr. Hoover is turning out to be a mighty sad contradiction. In the early days, when the bill responsible for his present position and making possible his appointment was pending, he gave the people rosy visions of relief, and on one occasion declared the speculators were robbing the people of untold millions annually. Now he says there is nothing to be done. Bread prices will stay up. Pork prices cannot be brought down. Demand, he says, will keep pork prices high. What about coal, Mr. Hoover? Is there not a pretty good demand for coal? And just what did you mean when you denounced the speculators in advance of the passage of the food administration bill? Or were you mistaken in believing them to be such bad fellows? Mr. Hoover, you are the biggest official disappointment we have met since the war began.—Huntington (W. Va., Herald-Dispatch).

President Wilson made a personal visit to the offices of the Federal Trade Commission recently, and it was announced in the press that his purpose was to speed up the work of that body. The time for him to have put speed in the Commission was when he selected its membership.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS ASKED TO AID

Ministers are urged to preach on the importance of school attendance as a patriotic duty this year, and Sunday School superintendents and leaders of young peoples' societies in the various churches are asked to make school attendance a special topic, in a letter addressed by the Commissioner of Education to churches and religious papers throughout the United States. In urging the churches to help in the campaign for greater school attendance, Dr. Claxton says:

"It is of the greatest importance that the schools of the United States of all kinds and grades—public, private, and parochial—be maintained during the war without any lowering of their standards or falling off in their attendance.

"This is necessary both for the protection of our boys and girls against many unusual temptations to delinquencies of various kinds, and that they may have full opportunity for preparation for the work of life and for the duties and responsibilities of citizenship; all of which will require higher degree of preparation because of the war.

"For many reasons there will be need in this country for higher standards in average of ability, knowledge, and virtue, when the boys and girls now in our schools have reached manhood and womanhood than we or any other people have yet attained to.

"In the making of public opinion and popular sentiment necessary for the maintenance of standards of efficiency, to keep children in the schools, and to prevent their exploitation in the mills and shops, the churches may do much. I am therefore appealing to all ministers to urge this from their pulpits, and to all superintendents of Sunday Schools and all leaders of young peoples' societies to have this matter discussed in their meetings.

"To do this is a patriotic duty which should be performed gladly, both for the present defense and for the future welfare of the country."

ASKS CLUB WOMEN TO AID IN SCHOOL-TEENAGE CAMPAIGN

A special appeal to club women in the United States has been issued by the United States Commissioner of Education, Dr. P. P. Claxton, urging that the influence of the organizations they represent be given to the maintenance of the schools of the Nation in their full efficiency during the present crisis. Dr. Claxton says:

"Everywhere there seems to be fear lest our schools of all kinds and grades, and especially the public schools, will suffer this year because of conditions growing out of our entrance into the war. On the other hand, both for the present defense and for the future welfare of our country, as well as for the individual benefit of the children, it is of the greatest efficiency, both as to standards of work and attendance of children.

"While the war continues there will be many unusual temptations to many kinds of juvenile delinquencies. Prompt and regular attendance at school and proper employment during out-of-school hours will be the children's surest protection against such temptations.

"When the boys and girls now of school age have reached manhood and womanhood there will be need for a higher standard of intelligence, skill, and wisdom for the work of life and for the duties and responsibilities of citizenship than we have ever yet attained. Our schools must now be so sustained and improved as to enable them better to prepare our boys and girls for life and work in the new age which will follow the close of the war and the coming of peace. No boys and girls must now be neglected or exploited for selfish ends.

"In all this probably no other can be quite so helpful as the club women of the country, most of whom are also mothers of children. For this reason I am taking the liberty of suggesting to them that in all women's clubs this should be made a subject of discussion at their first meetings this fall and from time to time throughout the year.

SUFFERED NINE YEARS

Many Remedies Tried in Vain. Well and Strong After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Spartanburg, S. C.—"For nine years I suffered from backache, weakness, and irregularities so I could hardly do my work. I tried many remedies but found no permanent relief. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt a great change for the better and am now well and strong so I have no trouble in doing my work.

I hope every user of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will get as great relief as I did from its use."—Mrs. S. D. McABEE, 122 Dewey Ave., Spartanburg, S. C.

The reason women write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives. Freed from their illness they want to pass the good news along to other suffering women that they also may be relieved. This is a praiseworthy thing to do and such women should be highly commended.

BUTTER FAT

Does not come under the ban of the new city ordinance governing the sale of milk and cream when used for butter making purposes. There seems to be a misunderstanding on the part of a few farmers as to selling butter fat locally, and a few have shipped it away because they thought they were obliged to pay a license if they sold same on their home market. Such is not the case. In fact shipping out of the state comes under the inter-state commerce act and would therefore become much more complicated and severe than any local ordinance or law, if there were such law governing the sale of butter fat when made into butter.

It is understood that some of the foreign buyers of cream are using the above misinterpretation of the city ordinance as an inducement to farmers to ship their cream to one of town market or sell it where it will be shipped away. This should not be the case as Maysville and Maysville business men welcome all patronage and give dollar for dollar for value received.

The purpose of the milk and cream ordinance is merely to insure to the consumer, a pure and clean milk supply and to protect the baby from a preventable disease.

GIRLS, YOU'RE NOT IN IT UNLESS YOU DANCE THIS!

Chillicothe, Ohio, September 11—Girls here's a terpsichorean tip.

If you would be one of the right-up-to-the-minute ballroom belles learn the "soldiers' strangle" way of grabbing your partner while going through the dizzy mazes of the waltz, one step or fox trot. Here's the way it's done in Chillicothe's smart set:

Get a strangle hold on your dancing partner with your left winger (arm), that is, by putting it right around his neck, using your dainty digits to advantage by grabbing his left shoulder pads firmly so he can't get too far away while you whisper sweet nothings into his eager ear.

To complete the picture and be right up to Chillicothe form, throw your head back in a devil-may-care way, allowing the left ear to slant slightly toward the masculine's manly right shoulder.

This is called the "soldiers' strangle" in this rejuvenated village, because the sweet things who are bent upon popularizing it try it out only on the boys in khaki, slipping the old stuff to civilians.

HOME-READING COURSE FOR CITIZEN-SOLDIERS

(Issued by the War Department and all rights to reprint reserved.)

This course of thirty daily lessons is offered to the men selected for service in the National Army, as a practical help in getting started in the right way. It is informal in tone and does not attempt to give binding rules and directions. These are contained in the various manuals and regulations of the United States Army, to which this course is merely introductory.

Why We Fight.)

In previous sections of this course army life and service have been described without special reference to the changes brought about by the present war. There are important changes, and methods of training and of fighting used in previous wars must, of course, be modified accordingly.

The extent of these changes, however, is often exaggerated. At bottom the qualities that make a good soldier or an efficient army remain the same today that they were before the war. The changes that affect the individual soldier have to do chiefly with weapons.

But behind every weapon there is a man. If the weapon is to be used effectively, the man must be well trained, disciplined, cool, and brave. He must have spirit, tenacity, and self-reliance. The big problem now, just as in all other wars, is to develop these qualities—and the other soldierly qualities—to their highest extent. The chief difference probably comes in the fact that self-reliance is a bigger factor than in most previous wars. And in American armies this quality has always been highly valued and well developed.

This brief lesson can not, of course, enter into a discussion of technical questions which belong in the field of military science. It will simply point out a few of the striking features of direct interest to every man who reaches the front.

Character of Present War

This war differs from previous wars chiefly in the enormous increase in the use of artillery. This is due partly to the immense manufacturing resources of the countries at war, which enables them to produce great numbers of guns and great quantities of ammunition. It is due also to the new methods of directing gun fire from airplanes. It is evident that a gun can not be accurately aimed at an object the exact location of which is unknown. The airplane, however, is able to bring back or signal back this information, so that the artillery may now be used with much greater effect. The size of the guns and the force of the explosive shells fired from them have also been largely increased.

Partly as a result of these improvements in artillery, it has been necessary to develop better methods of protection. The protection of troops consists of digging stronger field entrenchments than have been necessary in previous wars. Here we have the main reason for the so-called "trench warfare," which during the last three years has largely taken the place of former methods of moving armies about freely until they came into conflict with each other. Digging trenches and throwing up breastworks for protection against the enemy's fire is, of course, not a new thing in warfare. It is being done in Europe, however, on a much bigger scale than ever before. A complicated network of trenches now protects the men on both sides. The spade has become one of the soldier's best weapons of defense.

In seeking protection against heavy artillery fire a very interesting development has taken place. This is the use of various devices for concealing field guns and troops from the view of enemy airplanes. Sometimes trees are brought up and planted near the object to be hidden. Sometimes the gun or other object has an awning spread over it which is painted to look from above like grass or earth. For the same reason tents may be painted in greens and yellows.

The chief improvement in methods of defending entrenched troops is the increased use of machine guns. Machine guns must be put out of operation by artillery fire or by rifle directed against the gunners before infantry can advance directly against them. There has been also a great increase during the present war in the use of barbed wire in front of the trenches as a means of defense. Similar devices have been used in entrenched positions for many years, but never on so large a scale. Through their use it is now known to be possible to defend the front line positions with small bodies of men than were considered necessary during the earlier years of the war, thus considerably reducing the strain on the individual soldier.

Development of Airplanes

The chief new instrument of warfare developed during the present war is the airplane. As previously explained, it is used for scouting bombs. The scouting machine is usually equipped with a large camera which takes a series of pictures. When these pictures are developed and compared day by day they give invaluable information as to the exact location of troops, guns, and supplies. The scouting and bombing machines are usually protected by swift fighting machines. Airplanes have also been used at times to descend close to the ground and fire from a machine gun upon bodies of troops.

Another very interesting and promising device is the "tank"—a heavily armored machine so constructed that it can advance under its own power over almost any obstacles, and thus lead an attack on enemy trenches. It is armed with machine guns. Armored motor cars have also been used effectively under some conditions.

In the front line trenches men are often armed not only with rifle and bayonet, but also with bombs which can be thrown by hand or by machine. Some of them are no larger than an ordinary lemon. Many men become extraordinarily expert in throwing these small bombs into enemy trenches. They even become expert in picking up enemy bombs before they explode and throwing them back.

Another weapon of the trenches introduced by the Germans, in spite of international agreements to the contrary, is poisonous gas. This was at first very effective, since no defense against it had been prepared. At the present time, however, each man in or near the front carries a gas mask, which enables him to meet an attack of this kind without serious injury.

Wonderful Staff Organizations

Back of the lines the organization of the staff branches of the service has been enormously extended. Railroads are constructed up to within a short distance of the front. Transport of supplies and ammunition by motor trucks has been organized on a big scale. The medical departments have also made notable gains in methods of treating wounded men, with the result that a very large percentage recover. Even in the early months of the war it was announced that of the wounded actually treated in French hospitals 64.5 per cent were returned to duty within a short time; 24.5 per cent were sent home to complete their recovery and later returned to duty; 17 per cent at the time of making the report were still in hospitals, with the probability of complete recovery; 1.5 per cent were unfit for further service; 2.5 per cent had died from the effects of their wounds.

There is probably little basis for the idea that the number of casualties in this war is any greater, in proportion to the number of men engaged, than in previous wars. In the French army during the last six months of 1916 (which included three big offensives) the total losses in killed, wounded, and prisoners are officially reported to have been only 1.28 per cent of the French forces under arms.

One of the striking features of the war is the proof that has been given of courage and devotion to duty on the part of men of all nations. As soldiers we must honor and strive to emulate the heroic bravery of those who are fighting the battle for democracy and freedom. As soldiers we must recognize also the skill and courage of the enemy, even though they are shown in a bad cause. Nothing is gained by belittling the enemy. It is our place rather to see to it that we develop among ourselves a still higher degree of the intelligence, spirit, tenacity, and self-reliance which alone can win victories.

The war in Europe has brought forth changes and improvements, such as those just described, to which the soldiers of the National Army must quickly adjust themselves; but it has not changed in the least the qualities of body, mind, and heart, which in the long run are always the greatest of all factors in warfare.

MISSOURI UNDERTAKES CONVICT ROAD BUILDING

Although Missouri has had laws for some years which authorized working convicts on roads it was not until recently that any attempt has been made to take advantage of the statute. While other states have been finding out by experience that road construction and repair are particularly useful classes of labor for convicts, Missouri has failed to put her prisoners at work which will yield an offset to the state for their expense and at the same time keep them in good physical condition in tasks which are interesting to most men.

Now, however, the State Prison Board and the New State Highway Department have arranged for working as many as 500 of these convicts on the highways. They will be used on the country roads and the counties must pay the state for their services, food, lodging and guarding, but the total cost is not expected to exceed $1.50 per convict per day. The work done will be under the general supervision of the State Highway Department, which will thus have an opportunity of studying the conditions which make such labor efficient or inefficient and will be able to develop the best methods for use in Missouri. This is an important matter, because experience shows that the methods by convicts can be employed to advantage in one section of the country are not necessarily those best adapted for another section.

It is very desirable to have the early stages of such work carefully supervised, because in convict labor lies one of the most important means of carrying on road work at this time, when free labor is scarce, and any mistakes in administration and management should be corrected as soon as discovered. Delay in remedying mistakes has been responsible for some of the unsatisfactory results of convict road work in northern states, where conditions were allowed to remain poor until everybody connected with the experiments was discouraged with them.

WOULD CONNECT CHICAGO WITH NEW YORK

The Type Used in One Year to Publish Endorsements of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Of the many kidney remedies on the market today, none other is recommended like Doan's Kidney Pills. Forty thousand benefited people testify in the newspapers of their own towns. Forty-five hundred American newspapers publish this home proof of Doan's merit. The type used in one year to tell this wonderful story would make a solid column of metal twice as high as the world's highest mountain. Placed end to end the lines of type would reach from New York to Chicago. These miles of good words told by 40,000 tongues sound glad tidings to any Maysville sufferer who wants relief from kidney and bladder ills. Here's a Maysville case. Don't experiment. Use the remedy endorsed by people you know.

John J. Bramel, bookkeeper, Walnut street, Maysville, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been of great benefit to me and in fact, I attribute fourteen years of my life to them. It was in 1902 that I was suffering a great deal. After long use of Doan's Kidney Pills, I became well and had no bad effects for many years. Recently, however, I noticed my kidneys were not acting right and my system was generally weak. I knew it was a return of the trouble and I didn't lose any time in getting a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Chasler's Drug Store. They again gave me the same good results and I consider them a wonderful medicine."

Mr. Bramel is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Bramel had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60c all stores. KORNILOFF ALL IN

And Wants to Quit—Unconditional Surrender Demanded by Kerenky—Official Statement Issued in Petrograd Says There is No Reason to Fear Collision Between Forces of Mudliners and Provisional Government.

London, September 13 — Afternoon Bulletin—General Korniloff, former commander-in-chief of the Russian army and leader of the rebellion against the provisional government has expressed a willingness to surrender on certain terms, says a dispatch from Petrograd to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

The provisional government, however, demands his unconditional surrender. According to an official statement just issued, General Korniloff's attempt seems to have collapsed and there is no longer any reason to fear of a collision between the two forces. After General Alexieff had been in communication by telephone with General Korniloff, the opinion was expressed that the revolutionary general later would abandon his enterprise.

Moslems Surrender

Petrograd, September 13—A division of General Korniloff's forces, Moslem troops, has reached Tsarkoe-Selo, fifteen miles south of Petrograd.

Kugulskoff, a loyal Mohammedan officer, was sent to treat with them and they agreed to abandon resistance to the provisional government on condition that they be sent home to the Caucasus, where they must not be employed against the Turks, their coreligionists.

Premier Kerenky agreed to the proposal.

LEAK IN GAS MAIN IN COUNTY CAUSED BIG BLAZE

A leak in a gas valve in the main nautia gas line at the intersection of the Downing and Germantown pikes, about seven miles from this city, was discovered yesterday morning about 3 o'clock when a big blaze shot up in the air, and attracted the attention of people for several miles around. The Maysville Fire Department was called on for help but did not respond as it could not do anything only with chemicals. The Maysville Cotton Mills sent out fifteen chemical extinguishers. The blaze was extinguished yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock after much hard work.

The Lewis county teachers are holding a big educational rally at Mower Park today.

FEW REJECTED

At Camp Taylor—Result of Examination in Gratifying to Officers, Who See Good Chance For Division to Get a Flying Start.

Louisville, Ky., September 13—In addition to creating the highest enthusiasm among officers and men, announcement yesterday at Camp Taylor of a list of only thirty-five rejected men, out of 2,200 recruits, indicated that the Eighty-fourth Division may precede other sections of the national army to the battlefields of France.

So jubilant were officers of the division staff over the fact that the percentage of rejections is less than two per cent, that they flashed the news to the War Department by telegram. Every other cantonment looks forward to rejections of fifteen to twenty per cent, and with this advantage gained, Camp Taylor should complete the training of its men several weeks ahead of time.

It now appears certain that the same low percentage of rejections will be maintained in the second and last quotas, as men of the first contingent are representative of those in every section of Kentucky, Indiana and Southern Illinois.

Within six days the second contingent of the draft will start for Camp Taylor, and in view of the number in this quota—18,000 men—Brig. General Wilder went into conference yesterday with Col. Laurence Halstead, Chief of Staff, and Maj. Krueger, Assistant Chief of Staff, to arrange for an expansion of the "chute" system for receiving recruits.

Camp Taylor will go through the most strenuous period of its history when these men come. Thousands will arrive every day, and because of probable cool weather, committees of officers will remain on duty all night at all stations and sections of the camp to find comfortable quarters and warm food for late arrivals. Col. Halstead has appeared to draft boards to prevent such arrivals of men by making transportation arrangements providing for their arrival at camp during the day.

Returning from Washington, Maj. F. E. Lamphere, construction quartermaster, said he received no orders to construct quarters to accommodate troops from States other than those already assigned to Camp Taylor, but said he has plans to make additions to present barracks, announced several days ago.

Maj. Lamphere occupied himself yesterday with details of the infantry rifle range for Camp Taylor, which probably will be located against the hills bordering South Park, several miles from Division Headquarters. A committee of officers was appointed a week ago to decide on the advisability of locating the range there, but its report had not been announced. This location will give a shooting distance of more than 2,000 yards.

C. & O. NORTHERN WILL BE OPENED ON NEXT SUNDAY

It is officially announced that the new C. & O. Northern railroad will be opened for traffic Sunday, September 16th.

The opening means a new and more convenient outlet for coal to the lakes. It is expected that at the start three hundred cars of coal can be handled daily over the new line, which crosses the Ohio river near Portsmouth, and connects via the Norfolk and Western, with the Hocking Valley, owned by the C. and O. at Columbus. The coal to be handled by the C. and O. Northern will be in addition to that taken from the C. and O. by the N. and W. at Kenova.

The C. and O. Northern is a single track line, but is fully equipped with long passing tracks. Lihertoo coal has been weighed in large quantities at Huntington, but hereafter coal sent over the C. and O. Northern will be weighed at Russell, thus relieving delay and congestion at Huntington.

The C. and O. Northern, at least for the present, will be operated as a branch division of which J. H. Harris, of Ashland, is superintendent. It will be under the western general division of which W. R. Hudson is general superintendent.

No passenger trains will be operated over the line for the present. A now passenger train schedule will probably be issued to be effective next Sunday, but it will not alter materially the time of trains through Ashland.

First neighborhood meeting for the Maysville District this year will be held at the East Maysville M. E. Church, South, September 18, at 10 a. m. Delegates from Fernleaf, Germantown, Minerva, Maysville First Church, Mt. Olivet, Piqua and Shannon Missionary Societies are expected to attend. Please bring your lunch.

MRS. SAM HOLMES, District Secretary.
